A Note From Amari's Mother...

Dear Rooms of Hope,

We extend our heartfelt gratitude for the profound transformation you've orchestrated in our lives and living spaces. From the VIP experience at the hotel to the amazing room makeovers, it all has left us immensely thankful. Amari, in particular, has found so much comfort in his newly revamped room. Watching Amari show increased organization and motivation with his hobbies like drawing at his desk, have been remarkable. He just keeps saying "I can't believe this is real!" I think that reflects his disbelief and the overall impact of this change.

You all also surprised us by taking the time to provide Lay'Arie, Amari's two-year-old sister, with her own makeover, which might seem simple in others' eyes, but has deeply affected our family dynamics. Witnessing the newfound confidence and motivation in my children, along with their commitment to maintaining their spaces, has been invaluable. The care, attention to detail, and kindness shown by everyone involved have made us feel the profound love that goes into the work you do.

The impact of this extreme room makeover stretches far beyond the immediate joy and comfort it has brought us. For Amari, this transformation isn't just about a beautiful room; it's a sanctuary. It's a space where he feels empowered, organized, and motivated to pursue his passions, like art, despite the challenges he faces. The ripple effect on his little sister, Lay'Arie, goes beyond just having a beautiful room. This makeover has planted seeds of confidence, fostering an environment where they both are inspired to take care of their spaces and, more importantly, each other. It's a catalyst that offers hope for us and strength during difficult times, impacting all of our futures with a sense of security and optimism that transcends the physical changes made to their rooms. Words cannot express our gratitude.

Thank you wholeheartedly, and may you all be blessed abundantly and enjoy a wonderful Holiday
